ACC Board's 2016/17 Levy Consultation

Pursuant to the Accident Compensation Act 2001

This is your Scheme - have a hand in shaping it

ACC provides no-fault personal injury cover for all New Zealand residents and visitors to New Zealand.

The money to fund these services comes from levies on peoples' earnings, employers, petrol and vehicle registrations, as well as from the government.

Before the levies are set each year, ACC gives businesses, self-employed people and individuals the opportunity to submit feedback not only on the levy proposals, but on all aspects of the Scheme.

We rely on your submissions to tell us about the changing nature of your business, if your activities are different, or how the proposals may impact you.

If you choose to make a submission, your feedback will be incorporated when we prepare our final recommendations to the Minister for ACC, The Right Honourable Nikki Kaye.

What are the proposed 2016/17 levies?

Who pays and how they pay	Current 2015/16	Proposed 2016/17	Proposed change
Cover for work injuries paid by self-employed* people and employers (invoiced directly by ACC)	$0.90 [#]	$0.80 [#]	Down 10c (-11%)
Cover for non-work injuries paid by employees (through PAYE) and by self-employed people	$1.26	$1.21	Down 5c (-4%)
Cover for motor vehicle injuries paid by motorists (through licensing fees and petrol levy)	$194.25 [#]	$130.26 [#]	Down $63.99 (-33%)

*Self-employed and non-PAYE shareholders also pay the non-work claims levy.

[#]These are average rates. Individual rates for industry groups and motor vehicle classes may increase or decrease.

Proposed levy rates are GST exclusive.

The ACC Board is also proposing some other changes, including:

- reducing the petrol levy by 1.2 cents per litre (from 6.9 cents to 5.7 cents)
- increasing the minimum and maximum liable earnings limits (for Work and Earners' levies).

Making a submission is easy. You can provide your feedback with your contact details (including name and address) on our proposals, or any other aspects of the Scheme, in the following ways:

- through our website www.shapeyouracc.co.nz
- by email to: levyconsultation@acc.co.nz
- by post to Levy Consultation, ACC, PO Box 242, Wellington 6140

The deadline for submissions is 5.00pm on 30 October 2015.

You can get a full copy of the consultation information by visiting www.shapeyouracc.co.nz or by sending an email with your request to levyconsultation@acc.co.nz

A copy of the actuarial advice which we've based our proposals on is also available on request.

Keep in mind that the Official Information Act 1982 applies to ACC, so your submissions may be available to people seeking information under this Act.

Child and adolescent psychotherapists shall be competent to use various methods of psychotherapy to assist children and adolescents with their psychological life issues and mental health problems, whilst taking into consideration the bicultural context of Aotearoa New Zealand.

A key dimension of psychotherapy with children and adolescents is the use of developmentally appropriate methods. Child and adolescent psychotherapists are expected to have in-depth understanding of infant, child and adolescent development; infancy, childhood and adolescent disorders; family and cultural dynamics; and interdisciplinary approaches to working with children. Child and adolescent psychotherapists are specifically expected to be able to use methods of communication that are consistent with the child's or adolescent's stage of development and comprehension and be able to understand a child's non-verbal communication. Psychotherapy with children and adolescents may involve, but is not limited to: the assessment, formulation, diagnosis and treatment of emotional and psychological distress; severe mental health problems; and working with patterns of psychological life which may be outside of conscious awareness.

In practising psychotherapy, the context of a child or adolescent's life and social environment needs to be taken into account. Child and adolescent psychotherapists are expected to be able to work with parents/caregivers, and/or family groups as an adjunct to their work with children or adolescents.

Practice includes all the roles that a psychotherapist may assume such as clinical practice, educating and consulting including clinical supervision.

Child and adolescent psychotherapists shall practise within their area and level of expertise and with due regard to the ethical, legal, and board-prescribed standards.

Prescribed Qualifications for Psychotherapist Scope of Practice with Child and Adolescent Psychotherapist Specialism

3. Interim Psychotherapist Scope of Practice

Psychotherapists shall be competent to use various methods of psychotherapy to assist clients in their personal growth, relationship development, psychological life issues and mental health problems, whilst taking into consideration the bicultural context of Aotearoa New Zealand. Clients may include children, adolescents, adults, couples, families, whānau, groups, organisations and the public.

A key element of psychotherapy is the therapeutic use of the relationship between the psychotherapist and client. Psychotherapy may involve, but is not limited to: exploring the origins, maintenance and change of life patterns; the assessment, formulation, diagnosis and treatment of mental health problems; and working with patterns of psychological life which may be outside of conscious awareness, including non-verbal and preverbal patterns. Various coherent theoretical models are used in psychotherapy.

In practising psychotherapy, the context of a person's life needs to be taken into account, including social, cultural and spiritual contexts.

Practice includes all the roles that a psychotherapist may assume such as clinical practice, educating and consulting including clinical supervision.

Psychotherapists shall practise within their area and level of expertise and with due regard to ethical, legal and board-prescribed standards.

Acceptance into the Interim Psychotherapist Scope of Practice is for the purpose of achieving registration in either the Psychotherapist Scope of Practice or the Psychotherapist Scope of Practice with Child and Adolescent Psychotherapist Specialism.

Save for in exceptional circumstances as determined by the Board, practitioners can only remain in the Interim Psychotherapist Scope of Practice for a maximum period of five consecutive years.
